Keith worked in the shipping department in the UW system for some years and also at other companies in a variety of capacities. However, the job Keith loved the most was his volunteer work at United Way in Madison. He spent almost 15 years at the agency helping them to change people's lives and strengthen the community.

One great pleasure in Keith's life was a weekly family Sheepshead card game in which much laughter and camaraderie was enjoyed. Another of his pleasures was when family gatherings turned to playing other games . . .

Keith's answers for "Loaded Questions" were renowned to be the most humorous of all! Keith's family and friends recognized him as a gentle soul, an inspiration to all on how to live a life filled with kindness.
